"I started my studies in the area of Media and Public Relations at Institute of Technology Carlow in September 2013. The course is very practical and features time in the television and radio studios, in addition to the Mac lab which boasts the latest video editing software.

Prior to this I had studied Media Production and Photography in Carlow Institute of Further Education. My QQI-FETAC course gave me a solid base to progress to IT Carlow. I have just completed my final year of the BA (Hons) in Media and Public Relations and am looking forward to graduating from IT Carlow in November"

"I am in the final year of my studies on the Bachelor of Science (Honours) Sport Rehabilitation and Athletic Therapy at IT Carlow. The course has a great mix of practical and theoretical components. I particularly enjoy the practical element of the programme and was delighted when I was selected to complete my 16 week clinical work placement with the esteemed Stanford University Sports Medicine Department.

Before choosing my course at IT Carlow I attended a number of open days to see what options were available. I found the facilities and atmosphere at IT Carlow by far the best. IT Carlow has a great community feel and lecturers are very approachable and helpful which creates a good learning environment.

IT Carlow has a great range of clubs and societies for students to get involved in. During my time at IT Carlow I set up the Powerlifting club, with members participating in many competitions such as the IDFPA Powerlifting Intervarsity competition.

I am really enjoying my course. It has been challenging but well worth the hard work when you see the opportunities available to qualified Rehabilitation Therapists. My main focus now is to complete my studies at IT Carlow and developing my own practice".
